

Lipid Management in 2026

PRESENTED BY:

Dr. LUIS NORONHA MD, FRCPC

Dr. Luis Noronha obtained his Medical Degree at the University of Toronto, where he also completed specialty training in Internal Medicine. Additionally, he completed fellowship training in Cardiology and Diabetes.

Dr. Noronha has sat on multiple advisory boards for pharmaceutical companies. He has given numerous lectures in the areas of diabetes, hypertension, coronary heart disease and cardiovascular management. He is currently Medical Director at the Cardiology Diagnostic Treatment Centre and the Diabetes and Hypertension Unit in Toronto. Dr. Noronha is also the Principal Investigator at the Diabetes Heart Research Centre and involved in multiple clinical trials in Cardiology and Diabetes.

EDUCATION

- University of Toronto
 - MD
 - Internal Medicine Residency
 - Cardiology Fellowship
 - Diabetes Fellowship

CLINICAL INTERESTS

- Diabetes
- Coronary Heart Disease
- Cardiovascular Management

LANGUAGES

- English, Portuguese & Spanish

Dr. Noronha's presentation will cover the following learning objectives:

1. Review lipid guidelines.
2. Briefly review the data with statin add on therapies and where to use them.
3. Review upcoming lipid therapies, including Lp(a).